I gave this to a group of schoolboys - The Times Classroom Teacher.Q: Modifying Existing Constructors of a Class in Ruby Is there any way to modify existing constructors of a class? I mean, I want to add some parameter to the constructor. class A def initialize(foo = 1) # something end end A.new # Result: # A.new(2) # Result: # A.new(foo = 2) # Result: # A.new(foo: 2) # NoMethodError: undefined method `foo=' for # A.new("foo", 2) # NoMethodError: undefined method `foo=' for # Anyways, what I want to do is to add some sort of a method that will give me a concrete object of A. A.new.foo # Result: 2 A.new(foo: 2) # Result: A# 2d92ce491b
